

Sent: Sunday, May 27, 2007 12:16 PM
Subject: My Electric Story for Posting

Psychiatry is a mentally-ill, “superior”/”inferior, win/lose relationship controlling with the anger/fight verbal and physical abusive, quick fixes that never fix. I was labeled “schizophrenic” and subjected to electric shock. I became increasingly confused, wobbly and terrified after each brain-damaging potentially fatal convulsions and coma. Just as with any ordeal too horrible to be real, hysterical amnesia set in. An unknown terror undulated underneath my hysterical laughter. DO YOU KNOW? Psychiatry touts the high agitation and hysterical laughter as relieved mental illness and depression. . .until the flashbacks start. . . . I dimly remembered I had been locked up by psychiatry but none of the details. . . and then the memory, the smell of camphor, the oil they had smeared on my temples so the burn would not show on the outside enveloped me, and I exploded into suicidal and homicidal terror.

Clover Greene, "Paranoid schizophrenic" psychiatric overcomer;
Author, Escape from Psychiatry, Founder and Director, Welcome World, a 501(c)(3) non-profit; Spiritual Practitioner, Humans Anonymous;
www.welcomeworld.org; www.escapefrompsychiatry.org